55 days in and still going!!

Well Rabbosai,

B'H yom yom!! It has been a roller coaster couple of months. I had the K9 Filter installed on my computer in July and it has helped me tremendously. The downside was that I could not get onto GUE Network until I added it to the white pages.

I am pleased to report that I have ba"h 55days clean. I can only attribute it to help from above! I feel the Ribbono Shel Olam knows that I have been trying to break this for many years and sees I have been really serious this past year.

B'H I am more than half way to the 90 days. Now the hard part begins, where I am sure the yetzer horah will be pushing really hard.

I would appreciate feedback and help from people that have been here to give me some advice to get to 90 days. My other concern is once I get there, I will lose the motivation to keep going. Any advise would be appreciated.

P.Y.

One day at a time.

No more, no less

We can discuss post-90 motivation around day 89

It is true that we need to take one day at a time. I am sure it is the Y"H saying, you'll never break it 100% so may as well give up. I am determined to keep fighting this fight. Thank you for your chizuk!

And when you do make 90 days, Bardichev will happily share his Woodford in your honor.

Yes, one day at a time, and . . .

Each day, just for that day, pretend that you're up to day #89!

Never thought of that.

GREAT idea!

Shkoach Kedusha!
